TAKING PRIDE IN THE COMMUNITY

A short drive around Murrieta will quickly illustrate the differences in purchasing a home in an HOA vs. purchasing a home that is not part of an HOA. While a majority of homeowners want to maintain their home and protect their assets, what individuals consider the acceptable level of maintenance can differ greatly. The Association helps maintain property values in the community by ensuring that homeowners maintain their properties. When the Association identifies an issue, a compliance notice is sent as a means of communicating that attention is needed.

It's common for homeowners to look at their own property and think, "My yard is not as bad as my neighbors." However, this is really not the standard that is going to benefit the community. The Association would like to encourage homeowners to take pride in the community by doing simple things like spraying weeds, fertilizing plants, regularly mowing the lawn and bringing in the trash cans in after trash pickup. These small things really make a world of difference!

YOUR COMMITMENT AS A HOMEOWNER

The association is glad you've found a home in our community. We presume it has all the amenities you were seeking and you're settling in nicely. This is the time the association likes to remind new homeowners that common-interest communities like ours create some unique obligations to the community and to other residents within it:

Read and comply with the community's governing documents. You should have received a package of documents well before you closed on your home. If you didn't, check the association's website or ask the manager or a member of the board for copies. Make sure you understand what's included in them, particularly the rules about pets, parking, your home's exterior maintenance, architectural guidelines and when you must pay association assessments.

Provide current contact information to association board members or the manager. Make sure they know how to reach you in case of an emergency, and ask them to notify you of association meetings and other important events. If you rent out your home, provide contact information for your tenants also for use in an emergency.

Maintain your property according to established standards. The community's appearance can add value to all the homes within it—including yours—so it's important to keep landscaping neatly groomed and your home's exterior well-maintained.

Treat association leaders honestly and respectfully. Board members are homeowners—just like you—who have volunteered to give their time and energy freely to govern the community. While you should share your concerns about the community with them, do so in a way that's constructive, informative and helpful.

Attend board meetings and vote in community elections. Board meetings are open to all who wish to sit in and keep up with issues under discussion. The association is a democracy, and your voice and vote can affect important issues.

Pay association assessments and other obligations on time. Your regular assessments pay for common-area maintenance, amenities and other shared expenses. If you don't pay on time, the burden for paying your portion of the association's bills, like water, electricity and trash removal, falls on your neighbors. Contact a board member or the manager, if you're having problems, to discuss alternative payment arrangements.

Ensure that tenants, visiting relatives and friends adhere to all rules and regulations. If you are leasing your home, you're liable for maintaining the condition of the home and for the behavior of those who live in it. Make sure to screen tenants thoroughly, and familiarize them with the community's rules.
